BIOGRAPHY

M.O.S builds sets the way he collects records: slowly, by ear, keeping only what moves a room.

ENGLISH

M.O.S is the alias of Michael Oulbaz Suarez, a DJ and producer based in Brussels. Born of African roots, he folds R&B warmth and Eastern lines into eclectic, bass-forward house, mixing vinyl, hardware and CDJs in the same channel.

His remix of Attari's "Gemmayzeh", made with Lui, was released on Monkey Parade Records, and 2026 brought a run of self-released tracks: Amour Seum, Cataclysme 2.0 and Automatic Sex. The same year he appeared on Kiosk Radio, broadcasting from the kiosk in Brussels park.

On stage, the range is the point: red-lit festival floors, packed club rooms, beach bars, private parties and the open desert. The sets are patient and sensual before they are loud, energy in service of emotion.

Three new productions are in the works, sample-driven and machine-built, with a label and party series of his own behind them.
